Nortek Security & Control Ships Consumer Portfolio of Smart Home Devices

GoControl is a new line of retail and installed smart home devices that consumers want most in their home today: security starter kits, thermostats, LED lighting and light switches, dimmers, controllable outlets, entry sensors, and a garage door controller for convenient, affordable, grow-as-you-go home control.

Carlsbad, CA – October 8, 2015 at 10:05 AM ET – GoControl®, the new smart home consumer brand from Nortek Security & Control LLC, a Nortek Company (NASDAQ: NTK), brings added safety, security and convenience to every room of the house with a new line of practical and affordable wireless smart home control products.

The GoControl portfolio was designed to satisfy the growing demand from today's homeowners to design their smart home on any budget, with the devices they want, without all the confusion that riddles today's marketplace. GoControl products work seamlessly with Nortek Security & Control's own 2GIG® security control platform and with many of the most popular professionally installed and DIY control hubs in the market today including SmartThings, Lowes Iris, Honeywell, Clare Controls, GE, Nexia Home Intelligence and others. The new GoControl line currently includes smart thermostats, smart lighting and electrical products, smart security devices including sensors, sirens and motion detectors, smart garage door control, smart outlet modules, and will continue to expand into different smart home control categories.

The choice of many of the top providers of security and control systems globally, Nortek Security & Control is the number one provider of Z-Wave compatible devices to the industry. The new GoControl products are interoperable with other certified Z-Wave devices in the home to ensure point-to-point coverage and complete scalability of the smart home network. The more GoControl products are added to a smart home system, the stronger the home control network becomes.

ENTRY CONTROL AND SENSORS

- GoControl® Smart Garage Door Controller: Wirelessly control and monitor the garage door. The Smart Garage Door Controller provides safe, secure operation, preventing unauthorized access to the home. MSRP: $139.99
